

RIPON COLLEGE CUDDESDON

Summer School in Biblical and Theological Studies

Sunday 9th to Saturday 15th July 2017

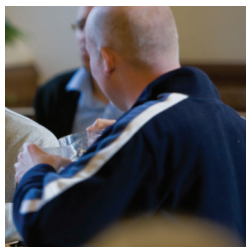

THE ROOT OF ALL EVIL

The Place of Money in Society?

We live in a time when the gap between rich and poor in society is greater than it has been for generations, and a great imbalance in wealth also exists between nations. Recent years have seen scandals in the financial industry, bank bail-outs, and an increasing awareness of tax avoidance and tax evasion both by individuals and corporations.

Our relationship with money has spiritual, as well as personal and societal, implications. It is vital that we, as Christians, develop an adequate theology of money, wealth creation and resource distribution. Join us in July 2017 for our next Summer School in Biblical and Theological Studies which will address these issues.

Visiting Speakers:

Lee Coates is Vice Chair of the Ecumenical Council for Corporate Responsibility, Director of financial planning firm Ethical Investors and Director of ethical research company Ethical Screening. In 2011 he was awarded an OBE for 'services to ethical business and finance'.

Dr Jeremy Kidwell is a lecturer in theological ethics at the University of Birmingham. His research explores the ethical issues which lie at the intersection of "nature" and "culture" ranging from economics, ecological ethics, and the theology of work, to the philosophy of technology. His most recent book is The Theology of Craft and the Craft of Work.

The Ven. Antony MacRow-Wood studied Politics and Economic History (York) and trained as a Chartered Accountant before working for Deloitte and then Rolls Royce. He was ordained in 1992 and served in parishes in Swindon, Weymouth and Poole before becoming Archdeacon of Dorset.

Antony has a long-standing involvement with the Credit Union movement having been President of the Association of British Credit Unions and is currently President of the Churches' Mutual Credit Union.

Dr Eve Poole's first degree was in Theology (Durham), followed by an MBA (Edinburgh) and a PhD in Capitalism and Theology (Cambridge). Eve first worked for the Church Commissioners for England, then as a management consultant at Deloitte, followed by teaching leadership and ethics at Ashridge Business School.

Sir Hector Sants is Vice Chairman and Partner of Oliver Wyman, and Chairman of Julius Baer International Ltd. Previous roles include responsibility for Compliance and Government and Regulatory Relations at Barclays, Chief Executive of the FSA, Deputy Governor designate of the Bank of England, CEO designate of the Prudential Regulation Authority. Outside of financial services he is Chair of StepChange, the UK's leading debt advice charity and was previously Chair of the Oxford University Business School, Chair of the Archbishop of Canterbury's Task Group on promoting responsible savings and credit, and a non-executive director of an NHS Trust. Sir Hector was knighted in 2013 for services to financial services and regulation; he has an MA in psychology and philosophy (Oxford).

Revd Dr Sam Wells is the Vicar of St Martin-in-the-Fields, and a widely-known preacher, pastor, writer, broadcaster, and theologian. He has served as a Church of England parish priest for 19 years. He also spent 7 years in North Carolina, where he was Dean of Duke University Chapel. He has published 27 books, including academic studies and textbooks in Christian ethics, explorations of social mission, liturgy and Anglican faith, and four collections of sermons. His most recent book is Hanging by a Thread.
